THE REPUBLICAN

From the New Albany Ledger, (Democratic.)

The Death of the President. Our city has presented a sad scene since Saturday morning. The people move silently along the streets, their faces indicating the sadness which shadows their minds. Nearly every residence and blems of mourning, and all the outward indications are earnest of the inward sorrow which weighs upon the hearts of our people at the terrible calumviolence, of its distinguised, kind hearted, and beloved Chief Magistrate. On Saturday and vesterday, in our rounds over the city, we met handreds of men and women whose eyes were swimming in the tears of genuine grief at the great calamity. It was scarcely possible to realize the truth that ABRAHAM LINCOLN was dead -dead upon the threshold of that bright dawning which promised soon to bring the realizatrial and turmoil and sacrifice-dead upon the boundary of that Canaan of Peace for which he had so earnestly labore !- permitted to look from its outing of a new era of prosperity to the country;-but not permitted to pass beyond the limits of that boundary or enjoy the blessings of which were to come with that happier era. His body lies in rigid death to-day upon a entafalque of state; stilled are the generous throbbings of his heart, glazed are his eyes, deaf his ears, silent his tongue. "Earth to earth, dust to dust." The summons answered-a nation mourns. His memory

All the churches in the city were draped in mouning yesterday, and the exercis s were aptire community. We doubt if there was a man or woman in attendance upon the service at the several churches whose eyes did not grow the dimmer from involuntary tears, which welled up at the mention of the name and virtues of the honored dead. There was genuine sorrow-no party ranger marred its expression-for all felt that Humanity had lost a friend-t'at a nation struggling for life had lost its greatest, most sincere, most reliable chief-

$70,000 Reward Offered for the Arrest of Booth. WASHINGTON, April 20.

To Major General D'x: The murderer of our late beloved President, Abraham Lincoln, is still at large, $50,000 reward will be paid by this department for his apprehension, in addition to any reward offered by municipal authorities, or State executives. $25, 000 reward will be paid for the apprehension of G. A. Altjerat, sometimes called "Port Tobacco." one of Booth's accomplices. $25,000 reward will be paid for the apprehension of David C. Har old, another of Booth's accomplices.

A liberal reward will be paid for any information that shall conduce to the arrest of either of the above named criminals or their ac complices. All persons harboring or secreting the said persons, or either of them, or aiding or abetting their concealment or escape, will be treated as accomplices in the murder of the President, and the attempted assassination of the Secretary of State, and shall be subject to trial before a military commission and the punishment of death.

Let the stain of innocent blood be removed from the hinder the arrest and punishment of the murderers. Alt good citizens are expected to aid public justice on this occasion. Every man should consider his own innocence charged with this colemn duty, and rest neither night nor day till it is accomplished. E. M. STANTON.

Secretary of War. In addition to the above the Governor of Penasylvania offers a reward of $10,000 for the arrest of Booth, if caught in Pennsylvania, and the City of Baltim re off es $10,000 more.

The Canadian Press on Lee's Surrender.

The Canadians are evidently profoundly affected by the news of the Union successess and the surrender of Gen. Lee. Some of the newspapers do not conceal their chagrin and disappointment. The Toronto Leader, long the friend and advocate of the secessionists, says for example:

The fall of Richmond came upon us like a lightning flash, and now the news of the surrender of thee's army comes with equal suddengess. There seems to be no resisting the onward morch of the Federal armies, conquering as they go and piling up victory upon victory.

With out hesitation our advice to them now would be -could we reach their ears-to submit quietly to of the worst disorders that affect mankind arise from the a necessity which cannot be avoided, and to use correption that accumulates in the Llood. Of all the distheir undivided efforts toward a restoration of a coveries that have been made to purge it out, none can

The Montrol Gazette is also profoundly grieved It states:

The capitulation of General Lee puts an end, we suppose, to the dream of a Confederacy of Southern States, forming a seperate and independent nation upon this continent. We believe this is to be regretted. We believe it is not well for the world that any one State should grow overwhelmingly great. Such strength, and the con sciousness of it leads generally to its abuse. We believe this is a breaking down also of the past theory and practice of Democratic governments in America, that it must needs leads to a continuance, for a considerable time at least, of that centralized despotic military power by means of which ambitious States are rendered more aggressive and more capable of aggression, while individual liberty of speech and action is diminished, and local and municipal authority permanently lessened. But, on the other hand, we see brought about, (by means the most deplorable, and in a manner least calculated to benefit the emancipated, indeed, but still brought about.) the abolition of slavery. The heroisia of the Confederate army, and the splendid genius of its great chief, which have challenged the admiration of the wide world-nay, the great astateness and abilities of President Da-vis, added to them, have been all insufficient to save them from the destruction to which this evil, and the fatuous clinging to it, have dragged them down.

ANDREW JOHNSON.

What Gen. Burnside Thinks of Him The following is an extract from a private letter, written by a well known citizen of Chicago, at present in Boston:

"Boston, April 16, 1865. i cannot comment on the overwhelming affliction under which the na-tion is now sufferiog; but I desire to say a word Buchulas Diuretic, and will act as such in all cases. about Mr. Johnson, because I hear people express the opinion that he is not just the man for the position which Providence seems to have assigned to can be made. A ready and conclusive test will be a comyesterday; and no one doubts that Burnside is not one of the best principled men in the countryduring the last three years he had seen a great deal of Andrew Johnson, sometimes weeks together-he never saw him intoxicated, never saw him drink'a glass of liquor, and never when he thought be had been drinking. He was indeed regarded as a temperance man I have all along insisted that that matter on inauguration day was an ex-ceptional case. It is, indeed, a proof that he was not in the habit of drinking; for if he had been a drinking man he would not have been caught in that way on such an occasion. During the campaign no person, Democrat or Republican, ever accused him of being a drunkard; and most certainly the former would have brought the charge if they could. In the Senate he was always regarded as

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION? Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the fasane asylums and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion. The Constitution, once affected by organic weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most sceptical.

In many affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buche is unequaled by any other remedy, and for all complaints incident to the sex, or in the DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE, times a day SYMPTOMS. The symptoms of Catarrh are at first very slight-Persons find they have a cold, that they have frequent attacks, and are more sensitive to the changes of temperature. In this condition, the nose may be dry, or a slight discharge, thin and acrid, afterward thick and adhesive may ensue. As the disease becomes chronie, the discharges are increased in quantity and changed in quality; they are now thick and heavy, and are hawked or coughed off. The secretions are offensive, causing a bad breath; the voice thick and nasal; the eyes are weak; the sense of smell is lessened or destroyed; deafness frequently takes place. Another common and important symptom of Catarrh is, that the person is obliged to clear his throat in the morning of a thick or slimy mucous, which has fallen from the head during the night. When this takes place the person may be sure that his disease is on its way to the lungs, and should lose no time in arresting it.

The above are but few of the many Catarrhal Symptoms. Write for our pamphlet describing fully all symptoms; it will sent FREE to any We are daily receiving letters from soldiers in
